MIRACLE OF DUNKIRK - THE NATIONAL DAY OF PRAYER

The day was May 23, 1940.

Winston Churchill, the British prime minister, spoke to King George VI about their situation.

The situation in France was grim. The Germans had broken the front line and were closing in fast.

200,000 British troops sent to reinforce France and Europe were left stranded with their back against the waters. Their only chance of returning home was to cross the English Channel through Dunkirk, a city in North Eastern France.

It was an IMPOSSIBLE mission. Churchill thought they'd be lucky to get 40,000 men home.

After the briefing, King George VI said this to Churchill:

“We must pray. I’m calling for a national day of prayer.”

One day later on May 24, the King addressed the nation and called for a National Day of Prayer to be held on May 26:

THE MIRACLE PRAYER

“Let us with one heart and soul, humbly but confidently, commit our cause to God and ask his aid, that we may valiantly defend the right as it is given to us to see it.”

On May 26, millions of people across the country responded to the Day of National Prayer.

British citizens of all religions, the Church of England, the Catholic Church, Jews and other religions packed into the Churches, Cathedrals, Mosques, and Synagogues to pray for deliverance.

The Times reported:

“In the cities and towns, leaders of civic life attended church on this Day of National Prayer at the head of their people. From peaceful village churches in the remote countryside the same prayers were offered, just as in these fateful hours the same thoughts are in people’s minds.”

Nothing like this has ever happened before.

With the German tanks just miles from Dunkirk, German High Command reported that the British army was encircled, and their troops were proceeding to its annihilation.

And then the FIRST miracle happened.

On the exact day King George VI called for a National Day Of Prayer on May 24...

THE MIRACLE PRAYER

Field Marshal Gerd von Rundstedt, with the approval of Hitler, halted the advance of the German tanks.

What stopped the German Marshal from sending in the tanks to annihilate the weak British and French forces? This was an unexplainable bizarre question that historians, up till today, are still debating.

As the engines of the tanks remained shut for three days, the allied troops were able to shore up their defensive line to temporary hold back the Germans.

The SECOND miracle happened after the German resumed their offense.

There was an eruption of rain in the skies. Heavy rain and low-hanging clouds grounded the German Air Force, stopping them from bombing Dunkirk.

If you've seen the movie "Dunkirk," you'd have remembered the scene when the German aircrafts bombed the beaches, and the soldiers all got into the "duck and cover" position praying they'd be still alive after the bombing.

And that destructive ability was taken from the Germans because of the violent storm.

The THIRD miracle was the exact opposite of the inclement weather.

For days, the English Channel, known for its notoriously choppy, rough and dangerous seas, was surprisingly calm.

It was reported that the water was like that of a bathtub. There was barely a ripple in the seas.

THE MIRACLE PRAYER

This was key for the FOURTH miracle.

As there were limited battleships to ferry troops out of Dunkirk, hundreds of private vessels, rowboats, trawlers, motorboats responded to the evacuation mission.

They sailed across the Channel without any weapons, brought the soldiers from the shore to the Royal Navy vessels out in the North Sea, and off they went again, sailing back and forth as many times as they were required.

It was a scene no one had ever seen before. In fact, there were so many boats that the waters look like a freeway during rush hour.

Famously nonreligious Churchill called this rescue operation a MIRACLE. How else can you explain the evacuation of 338,000 soldiers in 9 days (Of these some 215,000 were British and 123,000 were French), when the initial goal was just 40,000 soldiers?

- Halting of the blitzkrieg.
- The sudden storm.
- Calming of the English Channel.
- Hundreds of boats, appearing seemingly from out of nowhere.

Without any one of these miracles, the operation would have failed.

Churchill was surely not looking at prayer as the answer...

But prayers created a miracle.

5 STEPS FOR MIRACLE PRAYERS

Dunkirk is a testament that the bigger our problems, the greater our miracles.

That being said, you can pray for miracles at every level of life, from a small individual crisis to a national disaster.

When you pray, expect good things to happen.

Most people pray without believing in their prayers. They pray thinking, “It’ll be good if my prayer is answered...”

If the outcome is not according to their prayers, they’ll justify it as God’s will, and then pray for something else.

Truth is, everything is possible for God, and He is more than willing to shower you with blessings and miracles.

When you invite God to intervene in your situations... roll your sleeves up and get ready to receive your miracles!

There isn’t a magic formula for effective prayers.

That being said, have you experience times when you feel “a wave of peace” after a prayer... And you go like, “Wow, that’s a good prayer!”

And there are times when you feel “Nah... Not going to get answered for that.”

THE MIRACLE PRAYER

Is there a way to make God answer our prayers?

God doesn't respond just because we pray hard. He is more interested in our hearts when we pray.

John Bunyan's words summarize it perfectly. "In prayer, it is better to have a heart without words than words without a heart."

Keeping that in mind, there are 5 elements when included in prayers, produces a spiritual transformation that ignites the power of the God within you. This strengthens your faith to receive your miracle from God.

Now faith is the substance of things hoped for, the evidence of things not seen. - Hebrews 11:1

When your faith is strong, you'll have a confident expectation that good is coming.

Here are your 5 steps for miracle prayers.

1. Know who you're praying to
2. Give thanks
3. Confess and ask for your miracle
4. Trust and let go
5. Take inspired actions

Let's get started!

1. KNOW WHO YOU'RE PRAYING TO

Let's start with some questions...

What do you think power this world?

When we pray, what or who are we praying to?

Do you believe in the Higher Power running this universe behind the scene?

Do you believe in that intelligent, invisible power who is the real Source of the universe you see today?

For me, this Higher Power is simply "God" because I believe in God the Creator of this Universe.

Some might argue that it is illogical to believe in an invisible, conscious, intelligent force responsible for our creation and that according to science, evolution is the source of who we are today.

But... Think about this for a minute...

The beautiful earth you live in... How the Earth is tilted and positioned inch perfect that it gives us four seasons, with temperatures and conditions perfectly calibrated for life... Everything you see on this Earth is created for each other...

Don't you think saying this is the result of unintelligent particles slamming into each other sounds more illogical?

THE MIRACLE PRAYER

I'm not here to debate about the existence of God. But there has to be a higher power that can wield the magic wand of miracles if you were to believe that your prayers can be turned into wonders.

Prayer is a conversation with this Higher Power you believe in.

Imagine writing a letter and posting it out without an address. How can you expect a reply?

You begin prayer by addressing the person to whom you are speaking.

As you have a clear idea of who you are speaking to, you'll know how to formulate what you want to say and how you are going to pray.

Your prayers are inspired by God's power in you. It springs naturally from your heart.

2. GIVE THANKS

When do you say “Thank You?”

Cambridge Dictionary defines Thank You as “a polite expression used to tell someone that you are grateful because they have given you something or done something for you.”

So, why should you give thanks to God?

Well, we are given the greatest gift of all.

You can hug the person you love, run a marathon, eat the best tasting food in this world...

All because of this perfect present from God:

The gift of life.

You might renounce this idea, but you can't deny the fact that the air you breathe, the sunrise that greets you every morning, the beautiful night full of stars, and your creative mind that produces amazing thoughts...

They are all freely given to you.

As you thank your Creator for what He has given you, you are subconsciously acknowledging His works in your life.

When you appreciate and love what you have, more will be given to you.

3. CONFESS AND ASK FOR YOUR MIRACLE

Imagine two empty pails. One is covered with a lid, and the other is uncovered.

Which pail can be filled with water?

The lid is your ego. It stops the power of God from flowing into your life.

The ego is who you think you are. It's your false identity. It is made up of many different beliefs you've acquired since young.

When you place your ego higher than your prayer, the miracles won't flow.

It's like someone is stepping on the garden hose. Nothing is flowing.

Now, answer the question "Who am I?" Take a good few minutes to rediscover yourself.

Until you've plodded through the ego's guise and smoke screens, a part of you will always think you'll be able to survive without God's help.

As you learn to let go of your ego and make known your vulnerability and weakness to God...

Expect His grace to supply your every weakness.

Let me guess one question that is on your mind right now...

"My prayer doesn't yield results!"

Well, it's not only you...

Think about it for a second...

Can you imagine a world where everyone gets what they prayed for?

Here's a scene from the movie "Bruce Almighty" (Bruce was given the power of God in this film) which depicts what happens when everyone gets their prayer answered.

A scene at a party. Everyone is in an ecstatic mood, many prayers having been recently answered.

Businessman: "I'll drink to that! My tech stocks tripled in five days."

Woman: "You seem taller."

Man: "I am!"

A father: "My son pitched a no hitter!"

Plump lady: "I lost 47 lbs on the Krispy Kreme diet."

THE MIRACLE PRAYER

Another scene:

Grace: "Debbie won the lottery."

Bruce: "Oh, yeah? You're kidding..."

Grace: "But I guess... so did 400,000 other people. So she won like... 17 dollars."

Another scene:

A FULL ON RIOT in progress. College students, city dwellers going crazy. Cars are burning, people are out of control. Escaped convicts are running in and out of stores looting right alongside ordinary citizens.

Bruce stumbles through the mayhem, confused.

Bruce: "What's going on?"

College Kids: "Partying, man. Woooo!! Sabers!"

(Sabers won their first championship in 22 years.)

They continue to trash the area.

Bruce: "But your team won!"

Cars are being rolled over. A lone police officer protects himself with his shield as he's pelted with various debris. The Officer pulls Bruce down behind a car.

Police Officer: "Stay down."

Bruce: "Where are the other officers?"

THE MIRACLE PRAYER

Police Officers: "What other officers? Half the force just retired. Said their 'ship came in.' You better get home pal. It's dangerous out here."

The Officer heads out. Bruce stands, then quickly ducks, as a bottle is tossed through a window that has a lotto sticker on it.

Rioter: "The lottery sucks! I only won 17 bucks!"

In the midst of chaos, a bolt of lightning struck, and Bruce was brought back to the deserted building again.

GOD: Not as easy as it looks, is it, son? This God business.

Bruce: They're all out of control! This mayhem, I don't know what to do.

GOD: Well, you're right on time. 7 o'clock. All righty, then.

(Bruce proceeds to clean the floor with God.)

Bruce: There we are. That's good. GOOD.

GOD: It's a wonderful thing. No matter how filthy something gets, we can always clean it right up.

Bruce: They were so many. I just gave them what they wanted.

GOD: Yes. And since when do they have a clue about what they want?

Bruce: So what do?

THE MIRACLE PRAYER

GOD: Parting a soup is not a miracle, Bruce. It's a magic trick.

A single mom, who's working 2 jobs, and still finds time to take her son to practice, that's a miracle.

A teenager who says no to drugs and yes to an education, that's a miracle.

People want me to do everything for them.

What they don't realize is they have the power.

Want to see a miracle, son?

Be the miracle.

God works in ways that are beyond our understanding.

You can pray...

But understand that your requests, through your small view of this universe, is far behind the divine intelligence of God's plan for you.

Don't expect miracles to fall at your feet after praying.

Don't get me wrong. Sometimes they do, and sometimes they don't.

Rejoice when you experience Godly miracles...

THE MIRACLE PRAYER

But don't be dejected when your prayers are not answered.

God exists outside of time.

He knows your past, present, and future, and has bigger and better plans than you can imagine.

As you pray, trust not in your understanding but lean into his leading.

Surrender and let go.

This is the divine intelligence that has created our complex and diversified universe.

Whatever you are praying for, know that something better is coming.

And know this...

Whatever is impossible with man is possible with God.

He works in you and through you to create miracles.

He has given you divine talents and gifts to share with this world...

Cultivate these gifts and witness his miraculous power grow as you shine more and more for Him.

5. TAKE INSPIRED ACTIONS

For the final step, you have to take action on the inspiration, thoughts, and intuition you've received.

Many people fail at this stage as this is the hardest step to take.

You'll feel uncomfortable, scared, and unsure if your decisions are backed by God.

Let me share a story on why INACTION causes your miracles to flop.

A man was caught in a shipwreck. He was floating in the sea in his lifejacket and prayed to God to rescue him.

A ship came by, and the captain said, "I've come to save you."

"No thanks" replied the man. "I've prayed to God, and I'm sure He will save me."

3 days later the police came by in a boat. "Hop in, and we'll take you to safety."

"No thanks" replied the man. "I've prayed to God, and I'm sure He will save me."

THE MIRACLE PRAYER

After 3 days, a rescue service ship found him. The rescue crew threw him a rope and said. "Hold onto the rope. We'll pull you in."

"No thanks" replied the man. "I've prayed to God, and I'm sure He will save me."

After some days, the man died.

When he arrived at heaven, he demanded an audience with God.

Ushered into God's throne room he said, "God, why am I here in heaven? I prayed for you to save me, I trusted you to save me!"

God said, "I sent you a boat 3 times!"

We co-create results. God works through you.

Don't just sit on an inspiration. Act on it.

When you see an opportunity, pray and then seize it if you feel peaceful about it.

God will close the doors that are bad and open the doors that are good.

Now's the time to give up emotional attachment and take inspired actions.

Remember, action create miracles.

THE MIRACLE PRAYER

Place your hand on your heart and pray the following prayer for life-changing miracles.

Dear God, the powerful Creator of this universe...

Thank you for your amazing power and works in my life.

Thank you for all you've given me. I'm loved and supported.

I know you are listening.

I'm reaching out to you for help.

I'm receiving your divine strength and resources to overcome this [CHALLENGE] in my life.

Your divine strength now flows in me... Guiding me in tune with your planned direction for me.

I trust that everything will be alright.

I deepen my relationship with you, the Divine.

There is no longer any obstacles stopping my prayer from reaching you.

THE MIRACLE PRAYER

You've heard me.

You open up my mind to new possibilities and opportunities.

Unfavorable doors are shut, and new doors of opportunity are opening right now.

You have been, and still is working miracles in me.

I'm willing to put forth ALL my enthusiasm, energy and effort together with you to manifest these miracles.

I shall no longer insist on having things my own way.

Without your help, I cannot.

Now, I let go of my struggles and trust you for my abundant provision of health, wealth, happiness, and success.

I pray through words as well as my actions.

I pray alone and with everyone who has prayed this miracle prayer.

Together we create miracles.

I know you are creating a two-way communication.

Prayers require listening as well as taking action on your word.

Today, I know my prayers are heard.

THE MIRACLE PRAYER

I pray with happiness and conviction.

And I know miracles are manifesting right now.

Thank you, God.
